Through boilings deep incessant ply, And burning sands, a torrid sky, Eternal polar frosts defy,

The furious tread of wind and wave, That round his bark tremendous rave, The hardy sailor dares to brave,

The merchant's hope, the happy gale, To wast from 'far the cumbrous bale, And watch the lucky hour of sale, For money.

The peasant makes his humble bow, And daily plies the spade or plough, With sweat distilling from his brow, For money.

Though patriot-like he puff and swell, As if he had the heart of Tell, The Statesman will his country sell. The spring of virulent debate,

The wayward strife and vengeful hate, And war, the curse of many a state, Hard, griping misers, lank bare,

Denied of rest, and needful fare, Torment their narrow souls with care, The fortune hunter heaves a sigh. And for his mistress feigns to die;

But what has won his heart and eye?

Her money. The nabob, lo! the heir attends, And crowds of spacious, supple friends; But mark their secret selfish ends-

The advocate expounds laws, Right slyly twists a knotty cause, And warmly pleads his client's cause,

The doctor makes his deep surmise, Affects to seem most wondrous wise, His learned recipe supp'i's, For money.

The quack proclaims unerring skill, Prescribes his universal pill, Will wound, or heal, or cure, or kill,

The shuffling gambler packs the deck, And knave and villain forge a check; The thief and footpad risk their neck,

The assassin, nor in rage nor strife, Whets and conceals the bloody knife, And coolly spills the sacred life,

O money! source of weal and woe, Our very friend, our deadly foe; More precious wealth let's ne'er forego,

BRANDRETH'S PILLS

THE New York Sun says: "Brandreth's Pills have L been used among many of our friends, and in our own family we have used them nearly four years when we required medicine; in that period, no Doctor save Dr. Brandreth has crossed our threshold, and no medi-cine besides the Doctor's Pills used. Our belief is, "keep your bowels and blood pure," and every kind of disease will be prevented or cured. The Brandreth Pills are eminetly calculated to do this, and thereby much lessen the sum of human misery.' The New York Evening Star says :- " Brandreth's Pills are a medicine which their own intense worth will secure for them a large and ready sale. They have deservedly a high reputation; and as a family and anti bilous remedy, it would be difficult to equal them among all the Patent Medicines of the present day." To the whole Family of men. We feel both pleasure and satisfaction in recommending to all our readers, Brandreth's Vegetable Pills, as the most certain, most safe, and invaluable medicine extant. As cure in all cases of worms, scurvy, scorbutic humors, erysipelas, and all affections of the skin, droosy, asthma stone, gravel, piles, and lumbago, they will be found invaluable."—London Times.

These Pills are no longer among those of doubtful utility. They have passed away from the hundreds that are daily launched upon the tide of experiment, and now stand before the public as high in reputation, and as extensively employed in all parts of the United States, the Canadas, Texas, Mexico, and the West Indies, as any medicine that has ever been prepared for the relief of suffering man. They have been introduced wherever it was found possible to carry them, and there are but few towns that do not contain some remarkable evidences of their good effects. The certificates that have been presented to the proprietor exceed twenty thousand !- upwards of five hundred of which are from regular practicing Physicians, who are the most competent judges of their merits, Often have the cures performed by this medicine
